Buccament Bay Resort wins "Caribbean's Leading New Hotel" 2012

Harlequin Hotels & Resorts is thrilled to announce that the luxury, all-inclusive Buccament Bay Resort has won the prestigious World Travel Awards' (WTA) "Caribbean's Leading New Hotel" category for 2012, as well as a second award for "Leading Spa Resort" in St Vincent & The Grenadines.

The WTA awards programme, hailed as "the Oscars of the travel industry" by the global media, highlights and rewards those travel brands that have made the greatest contribution to the industry over the past year.

In winning "Caribbean's Leading New Hotel" for 2012, Buccament Bay Resort beat the likes of Hotel Riu Palace Bavaro (Dominican Republic) and The Hotel Chocolat (St Lucia), whilst the St Vincent & The Grenadines "Leading Spa Resort" honour was awarded over competitors like Palm Island Resort, Petit St Vincent Resort and Young Island Resort.

About the World Travel Awards

WTA was launched in 1993 to acknowledge and recognise excellence in the global travel and tourism industry. Now celebrating its 19th anniversary, it is regarded as the very highest achievement that a travel product could hope to receive.
